

Army Vehicles

Project: Australian Army Vehicle Tool Boxes

Category: Impact

System: TUFF STUFF

Job Description

The Australian Army were looking for a protective lining for their truck tool boxes. The coating needed to be impact resistant in order to withstand the impact of chains and tools being thrown into the tool boxes. The coating had to provide total corrosion protection and in order to do this it would need to be flexible and impermeable. Rhino Linings TUFF STUFF not only provided all the required characteristics but it also looked great.

